NEWS RELEASE

MISSISSAUGA, ONTARIO – Rae Lindsay has been named one of Canada's Top Female Entrepreneurs for 2011 by Profit Magazine. The rankings, published in the November 2011 issue of the magazine, lists Lindsay at 39.

Lindsay is the President and CEO of Mom's Best Gourmet Foods Canada Inc., a company specializing in manufacturing biscotti and other specialty baked items. In addition, to marketing products under the Mom's Best brand, the company also produces baked goods for a variety of private label brands for customers across Canada, U.S.A. and Mexico. Mom's Best is currently exploring opportunities in the Middle East and South America.

Lindsay and her sister, Angela Pettigrew, founded the company in 1995 out of Lindsay's home kitchen. Both sisters were single moms with small children and huge debts.

"It's been a struggle," said Lindsay "but we have been very fortunate in meeting so many supportive people along the way; from buyers to suppliers to end consumers. They believed in us and our products." Lindsay credits her company's success to the hard work and support of the many dedicated people who work at Mom's Best, and the loyal consumers who continue to enjoy their delicious products. "It hasn't been easy," affirmed Lindsay, "but, like I tell my children: nothing worth having, ever is."
